Proceedings of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

More Tammany Frauds Unearthed—The Usury Law—Argument in Stokes' Case—Copyright Suit—Examination of the Alleged Bank of England Forger.

NEW YORK, April 24, 1873.

More Tammany Frauds.

Bills amounting to three hundred thousand dollars for reconstructing Centre Market have been found in the Controller's office. The Superintendent of Works states that the bills he rendered amount to only fifty-seven thousand one hundred and thirty-seven dollars.

National Board of Fire Underwriters.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters, in session to-day, adopted a resolution, on the recommendation of the Committee of Local Boards, empowering supervising agents to examine privately the books of any insurance agent suspected of taking risks at less than schedule rates, and to report the facts to the agents of the company. A resolution was also adopted to establish a fund of one hundred thousand dollars to pay rewards to secure the arrest and conviction of incendiaries.

After a long discussion a resolution was adopted giving the Executive Committee power to consider a recommendation for the adoption of the three quarters limitation clause, such clause to be inserted in all policies, thereby limiting the liabilities of companies. The bill pending in the Legislature providing for a corps of Sappers and Miners, with power to destroy buildings and to prevent great fires, was favorably viewed, and a copy thereof ordered to be sent to each board of fire underwriters in the United States. A resolution was referred to the Committee on Legislation advocating the repeal of the State law taxing premiums and deposits of foreign companies and premiums of State companies.

After a recess the Committee on Adjustments and Statistics offered a supplementary report, requesting all companies to collect as much statistics of fires and losses on different kinds of property as possible, and furnish such information to the General Agent, with a view to as correct an adjustment of rates of premiums on property as is possible. The report was accepted.

Mr. Garrigue offered a resolution to the effect that in losses where a number of companies are interested no company shall pay the insurance on its amount of risk until it has notified the other companies. The resolutions also advised precaution against the hasty payment of losses, and provided that adjusters, before any claim is paid, shall send proof of the losses and adjustments to the home companies.

Mr. Hendee and Mr. Webster opposed the resolution, and after considerable discussion the resolution regarding the hasty payment of losses, and the requirement of proof of losses being sent to home offices before payment, was withdrawn.

The following was offered in its stead and adopted:

Resolved, That the companies constituting the National Board will discourage the hasty adjustment and payment of losses, and will, so far as is expedient, have proof of said losses sent to their respective offices before their payment.

The following was also adopted:

Resolved, That the payment of adjusted losses before maturity shall not be authorized by any company without the consent in writing of a majority of the companies interested having been previously received.

The election of officers was then gone into, Messrs. Webster, Little and Miller being appointed tellers. The ticket appointed by the Nominating Committee was elected.

Mr. Locke submitted a long statement from the New York State Board regarding the regulation of rates on farm property, and giving the principal features of a new form of policy and the regulation of rates, asking the National Board to endorse their action in this matter.

Mr. Locke announced that the Fire Insurance Company of Watertown had withdrawn from the State Board, and refused to agree to the new regulations. The statement was referred to the Executive Committee.

The Usury Law.

If the bill to regulate interest and prevent usury, passed by the Senate yesterday, should become a law, it would still be illegal to take more than seven per cent. interest. The penalty of taking more is reduced to a forfeiture of the interest, leaving to the lender the principal intact. No person but the borrower can bring suit for the recovery of excess of interest, and no suit can be brought unless commenced within six months after the time for which the money was borrowed has expired.

Copyright Suit.

Osgood & Co. and Bret Harte have begun a suit against Albert L. & George W. Luyster, in this city, charging that certain copyrights of Harte's works have been infringed by the defendants by importing Harte's works published in England, and publishing them in this city. The bill prays that the defendants be enjoined from continuing the importation and sale of their works, and be compelled to render an account to the plaintiffs of sales thus far made and the profits thereon.

Examination of MacDonald.

The examination of MacDonald, the alleged Bank of England forger, was resumed to-day before the United States Commissioner. The counsel for the Bank of England stated that they had no more evidence to offer under the old warrant, on which the prisoner was held, and the prisoner was discharged under that warrant, and the examination into the complaint on which he was arrested yesterday was begun. The new warrant and deposition taken in London were put in evidence.

Stokes' Case.

The argument in Stokes' case was continued to-day. At the conclusion of Phelps' address, Judge Fullerton addressed the court for the people, principally on the question of malice and the difference between the statue and common law on the subject. Tremaine made the closing argument. The decision of the court is not expected before May 6th.

Next Sunday Archbishop Bailey will consecrate Rev. W. H. Gross as Bishop of Savannah, at the Baltimore Cathedral. Several Bishops will participate in the ceremonies. Next week the Archbishop will consecrate M. A. Carrigan at Newark, N. J., as Bishop of that diocese.

The Indian Peace Commission.

The Indian Peace Commission is still in session here. The awards for clothing and household goods will be made by Saturday. On Monday bids will be received for transportation, and on Tuesday for provisions.

Suit for Work on Streets.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—The Welland canal is unusually low, and a number of vessels are aground on the long level at Welland. It is four feet below the usual pring level.

—The remains of another victim of the Richmond switch disaster have been identified as the body of Jerry Creamer, a sailor, who leaves a wife and seven children in Boston.

—The Evening Telegraph reports the arrest of Harrison Gramlis, a banker, on a charge of embezzling $2,100 worth of stocks belonging to a merchant. The hearing was postponed until to-day.

—Ex Governor William Pickering died at the residence of his son, Richard Pickering, in Edwards county, Illinois, on Tuesday last, of apoplexy. He was one of the oldest residents and most influential citizens of Indiana.

—There is reason to fear that Colin C. McPherson, of Brooklyn, N. Y., perished in the disaster at Richmond switch, R. I. He was expected to attend a conference of Latter Day Saints, and left home, but did not arrive there. The bridge where the accident occurred was built in 1834 or 1835. The wood work of the bridge was renewed three or four years ago.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Proposed Supplementary Article on Agriculture, Mining, Manufactures and Commerce—Report on Railroads and Canals Still Under Discussion.

[Evening Telegraph Special.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 24, 1873.

The Constitutional Convention assembled at ten o'clock, President Meredith in the chair.

Messrs. Campbell, of Philadelphia, and Purviance of Allegheny, presented memorials from merchants and other business men urging the Convention to adopt certain sections in the article on railroads and canals.

Proposed Supplementary Article.

Mr. Patton, of Bradford, offered the following resolution:

That the Committee on Agriculture, Mining, Manufactures and Commerce be requested to report the following article as supplementary to their report:

The Legislature shall, before the fourth day of July, 1876, and in each period of twenty years thereafter, authorize a geological and mineralogical survey of the State, and the publication of the report of the same. Referred.

Judiciary Report.

Mr. M. Hall Stanton offered a resolution that the report of the Judiciary be made the special order for the fourth Monday of May. Laid on the table.

Cities and City Charters.

The Committee on Cities and City Charters invited the delegates of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh to meet in conference in the Hall on Saturday morning at ten o'clock to consider the report on Cities and City Charters.

Railroads and Canals.

The Convention then went into Committee of the Whole on the Report of the Committee on on Railroads and Canals, Mr. Broomall, of Delaware, in the chair.

The ninth section was read, as follows:

All railroads and canals are declared public highways, and all individuals, partnerships and corporations shall have equal right to transport persons and property thereon, except officers and partnerships, or corporations composed in whole or in part of officers of each respective railroad or canal who are hereby prohibited from engaging in the business of forwarding or transporting on the lines thereof, and all regulations adopted by the companies owning, controlling or managing such railroads or canals, having the effect of hindering or discriminating against individuals, partnerships or corporations, except as above excepted, in transportation of property on such railroads and canals, shall be paid and no railroad corporation, nor any lessee or manager of the works thereof shall make any preference in their own favor, or between individuals, partnerships and companies, shipping and transferring thereon or furnishing cars or motive power, but shall supply the same in equal ratable proportions to each shipper or transporter in the order in which cars and motive power shall be called for and needed by them as shippers or transporters on said railroad.

Messrs. Todd, of Venango, and Purviance, of Allegheny, moved amendments.

The subject was debated at length by Messrs. Patterson, White, Purviance and Howard, of Allegheny, Lear, of Bucks, and others, the discussion taking a wide range, in several instances having no bearing upon the subject. One delegate spoke for twenty minutes, and when about taking his seat, was asked by Governor Curtin if he would be so good as to inform the Convention whether he was for or against the section.

Mr. Gowen believed with Mr. White, of Allegheny, there was too much overthrowing and overturning of the old Constitution, which, in his estimation, was as perfect as that of any other State in the Union. If there had been a few committees appointed to report amendments to the present Constitution on the purity of elections, increase of the judiciary, special legislation and prevention of discriminations by corporations, the work of the Convention would have been done to the satisfaction of the people of this Commonwealth. The question was discussed further.

The hour of recess having arrived, the Committee rose, with leave to sit again this afternoon.

Mr. Armstrong read a dispatch from Mr. Bartholomew, asking that his resignation be withdrawn. The request was unanimously granted, and the Convention took a recess until three o'clock.

Postmasters' Salaries.

The question of modifying the law relative to the adjustment of postmasters' salaries is strongly favored by the Acting Postmaster General and other officials of the Department. The books of the Department show that postmasters of minor cities receive a salary as large as that of a postmaster of a larger city like Philadelphia, where a bond of $350,000 is required. The responsibility of postmasters in leading cities is great, and heavy bonds are required to be given. The law limits salaries of postmasters, and is not governed by the business done by large postoffices in fixing the salary for these offices; $4,000 being the highest salary allowed, while in the ordinary class of postoffices the salary is adjusted according to the bus'ness of the office, some of them, as before stated, doing business sufficient to receive the highest salary allowed. If this was applied to the offices in large cities the postmasters of them would receive pay commensurate with their responsibility. Propositions to require a bond from the leading subordinates of postmasters in great cities are also strongly favored.

To Be Seized.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue instructs a western Collector that he is not only authorized, but that he is specially instructed to seize all wooden packages of tobacco where the stamps are found not to have been cancelled by the Government die, which has been prepared for that purpose and furnished free of expense, to every tobacco manufacturer required to use such die.

To Collectors of Customs.

In a circular just issued, the Secretary of the Treasury says: The attention of the Department has been called to the irregular manner in which sales of unclaimed and warehoused goods are made under the provisions of Chapter VIII, Part V, Revised Regulations. Said regulations prescribe that quarterly sales of such goods will be made between the 1st and 10th of each January, April, July and October, and that under no circumstances will the advertisement of such sale be inserted in more than three papers, without the express previous sanction of the Department.

At some of the ports the requirements of the regulations have of late been utterly ignored, sales being had but semi-annually, and the advertisements have been published in so large a number of newspapers as to materially and unnecessarily swell the expenses of the sale. The department has therefore to enjoin upon customs officers a strict adherence, without exception, to the foregoing regulations.

The question has also been presented as to what value is to be taken as the basis for deducting duties from the proceeds of the sale of unclaimed goods, and the department has decided that an appraisement before the sale must be made of the foreign market value of the goods at the date of exportation in the principal markets of the country from whence exported, without any allowance for subsequent depreciation or appreciation in such value, and that duties must be deducted accordingly, the charges specified in the 9th Sec. of the Act of July 25, 1866, to be first added. You will, therefore, hereafter be governed in accordance therewith.

The Louisiana Tax Troubles.

Commissioner Douglass states that there is no difficulty in making the Internal Revenue collections in the State of Louisiana. Both Governor Kellogg and McEnery claim to be the proper persons to receive the collections of local taxes, and it was concerning these taxes that the Attorney General was telegraphed to.

Can he Smoke 'em out?

It is stated about the Treasury Department, that General Sherman has been revolving in his mind a plan to smoke the Modocs out of their lair, and has even gone so far as to inquire if the tobacco requisite can be procured and used for this purpose free of the Internal Revenue tax. It is presumed, however, that some wags started the story.

Important Interference Case.

A case somewhat out of the usual routine of interference cases was argued before the Commissioner of Patents yesterday. One of the parties, Mr. Carr, is from England. The patent was taken out by Mr. Davids, of Baltimore, but Mr. Carr opposes its validity on account of having one prior to it. The patent in dispute is one for grinding mills. The Messrs. Howard, of Baltimore appeared as counsel for Mr. Davids, and Messrs Howson & Son for Mr. Carr. The decision will not be made for several days.

DIAMOND.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, April 24, 1873.

Affairs on the Texan Border.

The Treasury Department has information of the following state of affairs on the Texan borborder: On or about the 25th of March an American ranchero, living near Fort Quitman, was brutally murdered by Mexicans, his body thrown into the Rio Grande, and his animals, horses and mules, driven into Mexico by his murderers. Immediate pursuit was made by a party of citizens, and the Mexicans were overtaken. A fight ensued, in which the pursuing party was defeated, and they returned to Fort Quitman without having accomplished the recovery of the animals or arrest of the murderers.

In Arizona and New Mexico Cochise, nominally at peace with the United States, continues in the practice of his favorite pastime, and occasionally roasts a white man merely as a matter of amusement.

In Mexico matters are in a state of confusion, quite beyond the compass of an ordinary mind. There are wars and rumors of wars in Sonora and Sinaloa. In Chihuahua several business houses have been closed by officers of the General Government and their property confiscated and appropriated by the State on account of duties alleged to be due on the introduction of merchandise, which duties were levied in compliance with authority granted by the late President Juarez.

The author of an official communication to the Secretary of the Treasury says: "Where all this will finally end is a question of importance and interest. Its immediate results are being daily demonstrated by the gradual decrease of business affairs of all discriptions. The disregard shown to the laws and legal authorities, frequent violation of the extradition treaty on the part of Mexico, coupled with a refusal or inability, probably the latter, to enforce her own laws and control her own people, has crippled American interests to an incredible degree. The perpetual turmoil and strife across the border, in addition to Indian depredations, is fast depopulating this section. Since my arrival at this place (Paso Del Norte), about two years ago, there has been a decrease of at least ten per cent. in the white population, and it is still growing less, and unless some measures are adopted with the view of providing better security for life and property, from the lawlessness of Mexicans and slaughter by Indians, the collection district of Paso del Norte will dwindle into nothingness and become an expense to the General Government."

The above letter is dated El Paso del Norte, March 31st.

Condition of Winter Wheat.

The following is a summary of the condition of the winter wheat, just issued from the Agricultural Department: On the first week of April a considerable portion of the northern belt of the winter wheat area was covered with snow. The condition of that visible gave promise of a general exemption from winter injury, leaving the crop subject to meteorological vicissitutes in April. In the Middle States a great improvement upon the showing of last spring is everywhere conceded, especially in New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The prospect in the States south of Maryland is less favorable than last year, and there are indications of a diminishing area in the cotton States, although the average is not intended to be given in this report. Michigan, the only State of the northern border in which winter wheat is mainly grown, presents a green vigorous growth wherever the snow has disappeared to reveal it, and Ohio makes far more favorable returns than last year. In Kentucky a more checkered showing is made, giving present appearances a decidedly unfavorable cast, with indications of future improvement as the weather becomes settled. In Indiana and Illinois the unfavorable returns outnumber the rose-colored. The dry autumn retarded seeding and germination, and left plants too weak and shallow-rooted to endure the evil effects of the winter changes of temperature. Similar causes affect the condition of wheat in Missouri, but a great improvement over last year is reported, and a still more favorable condition exists in Kansas. In Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska, as is known, very little winter wheat is produced, but full reports are given of such experiments. The indications from California all point to another year of great abundance, scarcely a county reporting an unfavorable condition. As a whole, the wheat prospect at the close of winter is more favorable than at the same date in 1872.

Regulations for the Sale of U. S. Coal Lands.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office has just issued regulations under the act providing for the sale of United States lands containing coal, approved Mrrch 3d last, as follows: Any individual twenty-one years of age, and a citizen of the United States, or who has declared his intention to become such, may enter by legal sub-divisions any area not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres. Any association may enter not to exceed three hundred and twenty acres. Any association, if not less than four persons, who shall have expended not less than $5,000 in working and improving any coal mine or mines, may enter not exceeding six hundred and forty acres. The price per acre is ten dollars where land is situated more than fifteen miles from any completed railroad, and twenty dollars per acre where land is within fifteen miles of such road. In conflicts when improvements, etc., have been commenced subsequent to March 3d last, or shall be hereafter commenced, priority of possession and improvement shall govern the award, when the law has been fully complied with by each party. A mere possession, however, without satisfactory improvements, will not secure the contract to the first occupant when a subsequent claimant shows his full compliance with the law.

A Commissioner to Vienna.

Dodge, of the Department of Agriculture, having been designated by the President one of the honorary Commissioners to the Vienna exposition, will accept the position as an aid in his investigation of European statistical systems and in acquiring increased statistical facilities for his division of the Department.

FRESH FOR SPRING.

A Thorough Refitting—An Elegant Commercial Palace—A Bright New Stock of Goods at Messrs. Wm. Fleming & Co.'s

With the first few bright and cheery days of early springtime, Messrs. Wm. Fleming & Co. refurbished their commercial palace, 139 Wood street, making it as beautiful as silver from the mint, and filling the shelves with a stock of new goods that has never here been excelled. They thus early were prepared for their patrons, and were enabled to furnish them with the newest and prettiest styles of hats or caps, in advance of the opening of such goods by contemporaries, and at the lowest prices. The increase of trade which was drawn to them, they have been enabled to supply, from the fact that the first stock had not left the shelves before fresh invoices began to arrive, and thus by daily arrivals the assortment has been kept full.

It would be idle to attempt to enumerate the varieties in head gear which they offer, but there is one particular style of hat—the "Nobby Club" hat especially beautiful; it is all that its name implies and has found general favor. Young gentlemen who wish to secure the nobbiest hat of the season should look at the "Nobby Club" and all, young or old, who wish to get the best hat or cap for the lowest price, can secure it at Messrs. Wm. Fleming & Co.'s, No. 139 Wood street.

THE TAXPAYERS' UNION.

Another Meeting Last Evening.

Last evening the Taxpayer's Union held a meeting in the Franklin Street School House, Alderman Shore presiding.

Captain Ward, Chairman of the Executive Committee, reported that they had held various conferences with different city officials, but had not arrived at any satisfactory conclusion.

He spoke of the city officials in general, and the municipal officers in particular, and commented severely on their log-rolling propensities. He then went on to say that the main article of their creed was to provide "soft snaps" for their friends.

The Chair here made a remark that it was "you tickle me and I'll tickle you."

Mr. Ward commented severely on the official appointments and said that he knew of appointees, such as road viewers, and others, that didn't know enough to enjoy good health.

The chairman stated that he had gone to see viewers but never could find any viewing.

Mr. O'Keefe made a strong speech against municipal abuses.

The Committee were instructed to continue their investigations, and the meeting adjourned for two weeks.

THAT MARVELLOUS BOX.

Some New Light on the Subject.

As the maze was supposed to rise from around the mysteries of "that box" the shadows only seem to grow deeper instead. Chambers or Hampton does not seem to come to time. Outsiders say that this New York business was only a ruse of the Safe Deposit Bank to direct attention from the real guilty party, while others equally sharp say that "Bill" McCully's trouble will throw all chance for action in the shade, that it will divert certain plans. The three parties mentioned on the street several days ago are still held on to by the public as the guilty ones. Nothing new has been developed, and it is believed that the "New York man" will not be brought to Pittsburgh. This pertinent question, however, naturally arises, where did he get the other $49,000 worth of A. V. R. R. bonds as the New York papers claim he had in his possession, if he disposed of the $1,000 bond and knew it to be stolen as is alleged?

—A special from Dennison, Texas, says a report is in circulation there, which is believed, that a train with Government supplies for Fort Griffin, consisting of eight four-mule wagons, was captured by Indians on Cole Creek, sixty-five miles from Dennison. Four of the eight men with the train are said to have been killed, and two wounded.

AMUSEMENTS.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Last evening this house was crowded to witness Mrs. Oates. The piece was rendered with excellent satisfaction and her company in the burlesque of 'Fortunio.' tion, the various hits on Pittsburgh follies of the day being excellently given, and as well appreciated. Mrs. Oates and Mr. Crane as well as Mr. Howson drew the lion's share of attention during the evening. Mrs. Oates has got together a company of great merit in their line, and while they give a humorous grotesque performances they never descend to vulgarity or extremes. This evening Mrs Oates will be the recipient of a benefit, when she will appear as "Roland" in Offenbach's Opera bouge "Les Bavards."

LIBRARY HALL.—Last evening the minstrel company gave another first class programme to a well filled house. There is no organization of the kind that has ever appeared in this city that gives a more satisfactory show than Moran & Manning's Minstrels.

LAURA KEENE.—On Monday evening this lady, with her finely selected company, will commence a brief dramatic season, under Mr. Beamer's management, at Library Hall, opening with the new drama of "Hunted Down." The sale of seats commences this morning at Hale's music store, No. 108 Smithfield street.

FOREPAUGH'S COMBINATION.—This gigantic show opens on Monday at the corner of Twenty-sixth and Penn streets, staying for four days only. It takes five mammoth tents for this gigantic aggregation, and includes museum, bird show, menagerie, wax figure hall, and circus.

AIMS' AMERICAN THEATRE.—This place was filled last evening by a large and enthusiastic audience who keenly appreciated the entertainment given. This evening a good bill will be given.

TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES.—This place continues on its even current of success, and everything produced is fully appreciated by the patrons of the house.

THE CITY HALL FAIR.—The fair for the benefit of the Boarding Home for Working Women is meeting with deserved success. The tables are well supplied, and during the day dinners are furnished for the reasonable price of fifty cents.

LAFAYETTE HALL.—On Friday evening, May 2d, the pupils of Mrs. Slack Davis will give a grand exhibition, consisting of recitations, calisthenics and dancing. The entertainment will be be one of considerable interest and well worthy attention.

THE Philadelphia papers, in their reports of the Constitutional Convention, seem to be impressed with the idea that the sayings of the Philadelphia delegates are alone worthy of publicity. What they say generally constitutes the bulk of the reports, and outsiders are grouped in that happy category spoken of by Daniel Dougherty in his lecture on oratory, as "and others." Under this disguise some very good men are doing the State service, in a quiet way, but the only Convention eloquence that gets into print is that of the Philadelphia seniors and sophomores.

THE Americans spend a great deal of money for foreign nic-nacs, and our tourists take large sums abroad, but still we are an industrious people, as is shown by the fact that after the enormous domestic consumption of our products, we had surplus enough to send away from the single port of New York, last week, over seven millions of dollars' worth, not to speak of what has gone from the dozens of other large and small seaports on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts. There is only a very remote connection, however, between those who produce the surplus and the pleasure-seeking tourists, who go abroad to spend their gains.

THE Prince of Wales, English correspondents unite in stating, is recovering a great deal of his lost popularity with his future subjects. At the time of that great scandal the Mordaunt divorce case, he fell very low indeed in the opinion of reputable people. When he appeared in public scarcely a hat or voice would be raised in his honor. His illness evoked a natural sympathy, and the thanksgiving over his recovery was honest and hearty. This was in the hope he would abandon the "Prince's set," made up of the most dissolute of the young nobility. In some respects he has done so, and no longer affronts good taste or morals by his associations. In addition the Prince pays much more attention to the cultivation of the kindly feelings of his future subjects, and he reaps his reward in a vastly extended popularity.

THE new trade dollar to be issued from the United States mint about the first of June, of which mention has been made in dispatches, is intended especially for our commerce with Asiatic nations and Japan. The Chinese and Japanese prefer silver to gold coin, and for a long time the Mexican dollar has been used in all European and American dealings with these nations, in payment for merchandise, because of its freedom from alloy. This constant drain of Mexican coin has advanced it to a premium beyond its intrinsic value, and it is with difficulty Mexican dollars can be obtained in sufficient quantities for trade purposes. The new American trade dollar, intended to relieve this stringency, will be about the same value and standard of purity as the Mexican, and will be issued in sufficient quantities to meet the demands of our rapidly increasing trade with the Eastern nations. It will play an important part in our commerce with these nations, facilitate business and to a limited extent give our traders an advantage.

GENERAL LONGSTREET is not likely to regain any of the popularity he lost at the south, by his support of General Grant and the Republican party, by a charge of treachery made against him by General Pendleton, Lee's chief-of-artillery in the closing campaigns of the war, and now pastor of an Episcopal church at Lexington, Va. In lectures he is now delivering at the South, General Pendleton arraigns Longstreet for the rebel defeat at Gettysburg, which, he says, was the result of Longstreet's delay in making that furious and bloody charge on the Union lines, which was one of the leading features of the battle. Instead of making it at day-break, as ordered by Lee, he delayed and procrastinated until four o'clock in the afternoon, when the Union forces were massed and concentrated. At day-light they were unprepared, and hence Pendleton charges Longstreet for the lost opportunity to the lost cause. Lee, he says, appreciated the fact, but spared his lieutenant because of his prior services. We have no objections to the rebel leaders fighting their battles over in this way, if it vindicates the truth of history. For practical purposes the grand result at Gettysburg is sufficient for Union men.

THERE is a misunderstanding as to the law regulating the postage on newspapers since the repeal of the franking privilege. The repeal of the franking privilege to Government officers and Congressmen did not affect the free exchange of newspapers with each other, or the free distribution of weekly newspapers in the counties where printed. But when the postal appropriation bill was under consideration, during the last days of the session, an amendment was made as follows:

"Provided, that the laws and parts of laws permitting the transmission by mail of any free matter whatever be, and the same are hereby repealed from and after June 30, 1873."

Under this law, of course, newspaper exchanges must pay postage at the usual rates, namely, weekly newspapers five cents per quarter, and daily newspapers thirty cents per quarter. The same rule applies to newspapers circulating in the counties where printed, and there has been no reduction of postage, as some appear to suppose. A bill was passed by the House making reductions in newspaper postage, but failed in the Senate. Neither has there been any change with regard to paying the postage by regular subscribers to newspapers; it may be paid quarterly in advance either at the office where mailed or where delivered.

THE NEW DEPARTURE.

The New York World is the representative paper of the Democratic party. Minor journals of that faith generally refuse to recognise this fact, but it is true, nevertheless. The leading features of Democratic policy are either originated or first promulgated by the World. Its demand that Blair be turned adrift during the campaign of 1868 struck the ticket dead, and led many Democrats to vote for Grant. It demanded a new movement for the canvass of 1872, and the Cincinnati Convention was the result. True, it was cheated, in that a protectionist was put at the head of the ticket, when the World wanted a free trader, but that was an accident, developed in a very free trading Convention. Its effect was to produce a mongrel arrangement, partly protectionist, partly free trade, and very little else. The people repudiated it. The course pursued by the Republican party has taken from the Democracy their points of difference, so far as the issues that grew out of the war are concerned. Reconstruction is an accomplished fact, and the South is being treated with so much fairness that it is impossible to raise an issue in that direction. Hence there is a seeming wisdom in the course of the World in making the tariff the point of issue. It does this very fully. So sweeping are its declarations, that Democracy and free trade are to be synonymous terms if it can control in that matter. This is its newest creed:

We fellowship all genuine free traders; we scorn political association with any protectionist. Every citizen who is unequivocal for free trade is a good enough Democrat for us; no protectionist can be a Democrat at all. The political philosophy of which free trade is the outgrowth includes all that is fundamental in Democratic policy. We repeat, with added emphasis, that every vigorous free trader is a good enough Democrat; and that no protectionist can be anything more than a sham Democrat—a bastard and not a son. We are impatient to see the chaff winnowed out of all the wheat brought together. We stake all our hopes on making the Democracy an out-and-out, thick-and-thin, aggressive (if you please, intolerant) free trade party, subordinating all issues to this, and thereby drawing to itself all citizens who have a true appreciation of the great principle.

Several things are to be said, in reply to this declaration. 1. It is not possible to draw the partisan line closely on this issue. There are sections where Republicans are in favor of free trade, and other sections where Democrats sustain the tariff—the motive, in both cases being that of self-interest. Broadly speaking, this is the influence which controls public sentiment, everywhere on this question. When it was her interest to do so, Great Britain levied the heaviest tariffs known to the commercial history of the world; when her interest changed, she rampantly favored free trade. Pennsylvania has interests which needed, and still need, a protective tariff for their development and consolidation. These interests preponderate so largely over others, that this is known as a tariff State. This is true of New Jersey, and to some extent of New York, and other States that might be mentioned. Hence, the proposition of the World looks to drawing party lines which can not be drawn.

2. There are, and will be, in the future, other points of difference, of too much importance in the aggregate, to permit a single consideration to overshadow them. What may be accomplished in the off years, we are not prepared to say. But during the Presidential canvass last year, the interests of the New York Evening Post, for example, were with the Liberals on the tariff issue, as the Republican platform was openly for tariff,—yet it was impelled by other considerations to support President Grant. If the World imagines it can create such an absorbing interest in the tariff as to entirely overshadow the many other issues that will arise, it is mistaken. It cannot be done.

3. The entire aspect of the question is changing, both as regards this State and the West, and it remains to be seen whether within five years there is not substantial harmony on this, as there is on several other subjects that were bitterly discussed but a few years since. Should the causes which have increased the price of iron in England become permanent, or should the demand for iron exceed the supply—which is not improbable—the interests of this State, as regards a protective tariff, would undergo a change. On the other hand, should the Western States, many of which have large deposits of iron ore, and the conditions for becoming great manufacturing centres, develop these resources, thus creating a home demand for their agricultural products, there would immediately be a change of sentiment as regards the tariff, for their interests would be identical with ours in Pennsylvania. So soon as the manufacturing interests of the West equal its agricultural interests, there will of necessity be a change of sentiment as to the tariff. It also remains to be seen whether the opening up of cheap water routes to the West will not contribute to the same general change of sentiment alluded to above.

4. The tariff question must of necessity be governed, to some extent, by the condition of the national debt. Admit that it is an indirect method of taxing the people, and it still is true that it is preferable to a direct and heavy national tax. Absolute free trade involves one of two things,—the repudiation of the national debt, or the imposition of a direct tax to meet interest, and reduce the principal. To the people, the debt is sacred, and must be met. The only question for advisement is, what method of liquidation shall be adopted? We submit that the one now in operation is the easiest, the simplest, and the best.

We have made the briefest possible statement of the several points given above. They involve, as conclusions, 1. That to achieve its purpose, the World must drive out from its own party more than it will gain from the Republicans. There are comparatively few who hold to the Democratic party on the free trade issue, alone. The mass of its followers have the memories of its old doctrines, the names of Jackson and others as its leaders, and are thoroughly saturated with the principles enunciated in the days when the party was comparatively pure. They will not readily abandon principles they hold dear for the phantom of free trade. 2. Should it be able to lead its party to abandon all else, for the sake of free trade, it will be in chase of an ignus fatuus, as no one can tell what phase it will assume within two or three years. We wish the World joy over its new policy. We really hope it may succeed in inducing the Democracy to abandon all else for the one sole item of free trade. We do not imagine the heavens will fall, nor do we think the Republican party will be driven to change its policy in the slightest. Calmly and quietly caring for the best interests of the country, it will probably be able to go before the people in 1876, with a more brilliant record than it has ever had. It will, quite certainly, show a large reduction in the national debt, and, we hope, will have commenced to open up a vast system of water communication, for the cheap transportation of the agricultural products of the West. With this, and its general record, it need not fear a party that simply proposes free trade.

THE minor details of the new census tables of manufacturers contain matter both instructive and amusing. For instance: All the people of the United States depend upon one shop for their home-made artificial eyes, and this shop contains only three hands, five establishments are devoted to the making of base ball goods, twelve to artificial building-stone, five to playing cards, five hundred and forty-seven to cider, thirty-three to paper collars and cuffs, four to masquerading costumes, eight to croquet sets, two to hemlock bark extract, nine to hooks and eyes, one hundred and ninety-four to hoopskirts and corsets, four to ice (by a patented process), nineteen hundred and seventy-two to malt liquors, eighteen to maps and atlases, seventy-five to matches, sixteen hundred and sixty-eight to millinery goods, four to mops and dusters, seven to mucilage and paste, three to nitro-glycerine, three hundred and nineteen to patent medicines and compounds, four to wooden penholders, sixty-four to perfumery, cosmetics and fancy soaps, ten hundred and ninety to photographs, thirty-one to tobacco pipes, eighteen to screws, fifty-six to shoddy, eight to taxidermy, forty-six hundred and thirty-one to cigars, ten to veneering, and sixty to canes.

THE majority report of the Hoosac Tunnel Railroad Committee of the Massachusetts Legislature, providing for the consolidation of a number of railroads into one corporation, by the name of The Boston and Northwestern Railroad Company, is regarded as a deflection of those currents of trade that have hitherto made New York the shipping focus of the continent. The consolidated company, it is provided, shall operate the Hoosac Tunnel and its approaches, but all railroad corporations connecting therewith or with Boston, and the Northwestern Railroad, shall possess the right of sending their cars and passengers and freight through the tunnel upon equal terms and with equal facility. It is also provided that the Commonwealth may, after six month's notice, take possession of the road of the consolidated corporation.

THE retirement of M. Grevy from the Presidency of the National Assembly of France is said to be as sad a blow to M. Gambetta as the election of M. Buffet as his successor was to M. Thiers. Grevy becomes the leader of the Left, and Gambetta, who has been in training for the part, is offered one or three alternatives—to act as Grevy's subordinate, to go over to M. Thiers, or to become leader of the Reds, as the extreme "Left" of sixty or seventy members is called.

A LONDON special of the 23d says the Epsom Spring meeting was brought to a close on that day. Mornington won the grand metropolitan stakes. Dutch Skater, last years' winner, was second, and Upton third. The race was a handicap for twenty-five sovereigns each, with two hundred added. Twelve horses started. Mornington had also won the city and suburban stakes.

THE New York Legislature has passed the bill, which has been for some time pending, intended to prevent the frequent accidents that occur from the careless handling of fire-arms. It is now a misdemeanor in New York to point a gun, pistol or other fire-arm at any one, whether the weapon is loaded or not, and the crime is punishable by fine and imprisonment. This is a wholesome enactment, well worthy of imitation everywhere.

OUTSIDE the tenement-houses of New York, the operatives of the New England factories are to-day the most thickly and unwholesomely housed persons on this continent. The average of persons to a dwelling in New York is 14.72; in Reading, Pa., it is only 5.39; in Pittsburgh, 6.05: in Philadelphia, 6.01; while in Fall River, Mass., it is 9.96; in Boston, 8.46; in Lawrence, 8.40; in Providence, R. I., 7.46; and in Worcester, Mass., 8.35.

THE Hartford Courant, having thoroughly collated the facts, concludes that no engine can run more than sixty miles an hour. It adds that some of the fastest runs have been twenty-six miles in thirty minutes, from Springfield to Hartford; eighteen miles in twenty minutes, from Meriden to New Haven; fifty-four miles in fifty-eight minutes, on the Boston and Albany road. One, at least, of these trips, was made solely against time.

THE railroad ties in use in the United States are estimated to amount in number to one hundred and fifty millions. About two hundred ties to the acre is about the average yield of timber lands, and therefore seven hundred and fifty thousand acres were required to furnish the above supply. Every five years the ties have to be renewed, and therefore thirty millions are used annually for repairs, the timber being cut from one hundred and fifty thousand acres.

THE Louisville Commercial very amusingly explains the refusal of the Kentucky Legislature to make an appropriation for State Commissioners at the Vienna Exposition, as having occurred under the apprehension of a majority of the members that the exposition was to be held either in Vienna, Clarke county, Kentucky, or Vienna, Scott county, Indiana. A small appropriation, says the Commercial, would have been made to send Commissioners to the Indiana town, but it having come to be generally believed that the Kentucky Vienna was the place, any appropriation was considered unnecessary.

ARCHBISHOP BAYLEY, in an interview with a New York Herald correspondent, is reported to have said that it is absurd to suppose that the death of the Pope would be kept a secret until his successor was appointed. History and tradition are against such a practice. There has in most cases been an interval of nine days between the demise of a Pope and the election of his successor, and such an election is not made until after the burial of the deceased. The Archbishop rejects the idea that secrecy would be maintained about his death in order to prevent interference by the European powers with the election of his successor.

THE storm last week along the line of the Union Pacific in Nebraska, is described as being as severe as that of 1856. The wind swept over the plains with a velocity of seventy miles an hour; houses were blown down and hidden from sight under the drifting snow; valuable cattle stampeded from corrals and were lost and drowned; prairie animals were frozen to death and maimed by the terrible wind, which dashed them about like small birds, and many human lives were lost. In some places rivers were completely bridged with snow ranging in depth from fifteen to eighteen feet, and so densely was the snow packed that loaded wagons were afterwards driven over it with perfect safety.

THE Memphis Appeal gives a detailed report of a prosecution of four barbers in that city for violation of the Sunday law. It says: They were accused under the section of the code which provides that no person in the State of Tennessee shall do any ordinary business on Sunday, from the fact that they did prosecute their regular business by shaving certain parties last Sunday. The case was ably argued on both sides, and Justice Wallace, after due deliberation, decided that the services of barbers, like those of hotel-keepers, newspaper editors, and livery-stable keepers, were essential for the convenience of the general public, particularly in these days of so much railroad and steamboat travel.

THE Japanese Government has issued a notification in regard to mixed marriages, according to which any Japanese subject desirous of marrying a woman of foreign parentage residing in Japan must first obtain the consent of the Government; any woman of foreign extraction who marries a Japanese is looked upon as a subject of the empire; any Japanese who receives into his family any foreigner as his son-in-law must first have obtained Governmental consent, and thereafter the son-in-law is regarded as a naturalized Japanese subject. Any Japanese woman who marries a foreigner without consent of the Government is no longer to be considered a subject of the empire, and forfeits all rights she may have had to real estate or personal property.

CRIMINALS of the higher class in Japan are allowed the privilege of committing suicide to save them the indignity of a public execution. A case of this kind has recently occurred. Four years ago Honda Jugoi, the Minister of Dalmia Kashiu, was murdered by five men. Two of them were punished by death, but the others were only imprisoned for a time because it was not they who projected the scheme. After two years, however, twelve men of the subjects of Honda bound themselves together by a vow to revenge their master, and killed the three men. As soon as the murder was fulfilled they appealed to the Government, and asked for a proper punishment. In the eleventh month of last year they were sentenced to commit suicide.

THE Gaceta of Havana published a decree returning embargoed properties belonging to loyal wives of disloyal husbands in Cuba. The decree says that if the husbands are still conspieing, or are in the insurgent ranks, their wives are to receive $1,000 each per annum. The same amount is granted to destitute wives and children of disloyal husbands from the proceeds of joint property surrendered by insurgents. They are to be placed in immediate possession of such property, provided the product thereof does not exceed $1,000. Should it produce $2,000, there is also a condition that it shall not be sold or mortgaged for two years. Properties producing more than the above amount must remain in charge of the Government, who will give the owner $2,000 annually, provided the persons reside on Spanish territory.

THE Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals has rendered a decision in the case of Underwood vs. McVeigh, affirming the judgment of the Corporation Court of Alexandria, which directed a writ to issue ejecting Judge Underwood, of the United States District Court, from possession of the handsome residence in Alexandria, which was purchased by him at the confiscation sale, ordered by himself in 1864. McVeigh, owner of the property, and who went to Richmond during the rebellion, introduced testimony to show that Oakes Ames, John B. Alley, Samuel Hooper, and Underwood & Son had organized to cause a confiscation proceding to be instituted in the Supreme Court. In giving the decision the Court declared that in its opinion Underwood's conduct had been such as to shock the moral sense of every honest man.

IT IS a year, six months and nine days since the fire of October 9, 1871, and yet, strange to relate, two gentlemen claim that the champion blaze of creation has not subsided yet. While a party of gentlemen yesterday were passing the ruins of the Catholic Brothers' School, on Van Buren street, east of Clark, their attention was attracted by the escape of smoke, and, out of curiosity, they instituted an investigation. After making an excavation, a small pile of glowing coals was reached, and when the air came in contact with it a vigorous flame burst forth. The discoverers resolved upon making the fact memorable, and accordingly, obtaining some potatoes, roasted them by the fire, ate a lunch, then lit some cigars at the blaze, covered the live coals over with brick, and departed.—Chicago Inter-Ocean, April 19.

PERSONAL.

SANTA ANNA has been writing a book this winter on "Mexican Affairs," which a Boston firm is to publish.

A MR. ROBINSON, from Minnesota, aged one hundred and twenty-two, is on a visit to a son in Illinois, aged ninety-eight.

A NORTH CAROLINA doctor, recently deceased, bequeathed to another physician, who was his intimate friend, his skeleton, to be set up where it would most frequently remind the living of the dead, and do some good in furthering the cause of science. The bequest was declined, and the body was buried entire.

HON. SCHUYLER COLFAX says that he does not wish to go back to Congress, or to accept office of any kind: that for the first time in twenty years he belongs to his family and himself, instead of to the public; and that he enjoys the rest and quiet it gives him too well to consent that this ownership shall be changed.

MR. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS, in assuring a correspondent, through the columns of the Atlanta Sun, that he has no intention of withdrawing from the management of that paper, declares that "peace, quiet, harmony and prosperity prevail throughout the State, and the rights of person and property, including all classes, black as well as white, are nowhere better protected than in Georgia at present."

THE San Francisco Alta is responsible for the story that a Nevada lawyer had as a client a man accused of murder, and that the principal witness in his favor being his wife, who was incapacitated from giving testimony by reason of her relation to him, he got the murder trial postponed, brought suit for divorce in her behalf and secured it, and then triumphantly placed her on the stand to secure the acquittal of her husband.

A DOCTOR in Greenville, S. C., writes to the local newspaper to say how he treats cerebro-spinal meningitis. He bathes the spine with spirits of turpentine, and then passes over it a well-heated smoothing iron for fifteen minutes. At the same time he gives quinine in heroic doses, each followed by a heroic dose of bromide of potassium, combined in solution with an ordinary dose of solid extract of hyoscyamus. He throws in at the same time great doses of calomel. After such treatment it is evident that the poor patient must either die or get well in self-defence.

A PATHETIC incident occurred during the floods at Binghamton. A Mrs. Fox, residing near the cemetery gate, heard, in the morning, a peculiar moaning in the direction of the cemetery. Going there she found a little child waist-deep in water and weeping near a head-stone, which marked a lonely grave. Upon being questioned she said that she lived a long way off. She had heard that the graves were covered by water, and she feared that her mother's would be washed away. So she went to keep her poor watch and ward beside it. She was kindly cared for and sent to her motherless home.

QUEEN VICTORIA's toilette at a recent reception, or drawing room, as it is called in London, is described as follows: The Queen wore a black silk dress, with a train trimmed with crape and feathers, and a diamond and pearl coronet over a long white vail with white tulle trimmings. Her Majesty also wore a necklace, composed of two rows of large pearls, and pearl and diamond brooches; the riband and star of the Order of the Garter, the Orders of Victoria and Albert, Louise of Prussia, and St. Isabel of Portugal, and the Saxe-Coburg and Gotha Family Order.

COUNT DE WALDECK is still living, green and vigorous, in Paris, having recently celebrated his one hundred and seventh birthday, and still feels young enough to contemplate the building of a theatre, of which he is himself to be director. This is perhaps the only conceivable thing that could kill him, and he adopts it as a species of euthanasia. He is a clever artist, and still paints an occasional picture for the annual Salon. In this he was until recently sustained by the example of Titian, who painted industriously until he was 99, and was then cut off by the pest, when half way through a great picture.

SPEAKING of the sacred poetry in use among the negro students at Hampton, a religious paper describes them as metrical marvels of wild sublimity and pathos, mingled in the most indescribable doggerel. A resurrection hymn, entitled "In Dat Great Gittin-up Mornin'," which is oftener than any other sung by the students, was composed by an old slave who could neither read nor write. He had a dream of the day of judgment, and then described it in such fragments of Bible language as he had learned by rote in religious meetings. This semi-Ossianic performance begins with the words,

"I'm goin' to tell you 'bout de coming ob de Saviour, Fare you well, fare you well."

SAM LONG, a well-know circus clown, tells the following story of Henry Clay: "I remember once we entered Lexington in procession, and it just happened that Henry Clay was driving in at the same time. I brought up the rear of the procession, riding a mule. As he was directly behind me, I turned my face to the ass' tail and sang out, 'Here we are, fellow-citizens, Wisdom led by Folly.' The people laughed and shouted, and old Harry seemed greatly amused. The next day at the circus I made him a speech, in which I advised him to be President of the United States, and take me in his Cabinet. That night he sent me a bottle of the finest wine I ever tasted, with his compliments, saying 'from the poorest fool to the best clown in the United States.' Ah! sir, there was a man for you."

MARIA TAGLIONI, the celebrated dancer, whose death on April 22d has been announced by cable, was Italian by descent, but was born at Stockholm, Sweden, March, 1804. Her father was a ballet-master at various opera houses on the continent of Europe, and the daughter made her first appearance in 1827 in the opera house in Paris, where she achieved great success, and her fame, as an opera dancer, was increased during her visits to the capitals of Europe. She was distinguished for the exquisite airy style of her dancing. In 1847 she retired from the stage, having married Count Gilbert de Voisons. She resided in Italy until 1872, when her property and investments having been entirely lost by the financial convulsions caused by the Italian and Franco-German wars, she was obliged to return to London. Here, at the age of 68, she adopted the occupation of mistress of dancing and deportment, and was held in high esteem by her pupils, taken from among the daughters of the nobility. Her re-appearance upon the stage of the world, after an absence of twenty-five years, caused a great sensation, and her great abilities gathered round her hosts of friends, both old and new.

NEW BOOKS.

UNDER LOCK AND KEY. A story by T. W. Speight. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co.

This is a strange story,—quite well written—but of a wierd character. It is the history of a young girl, the secret of whose parentage was kept hidden from her, but who found a home with her mother and grandmother, knowing neither, attending both, and finally as one succeeding the other died, having her early history revealed and becoming heiress to an immense estate. The search after a missing diamond of great value and inseperably connected with the family history, is interwoven into the story with fine affect, adding not a little to the interest. The novel is one of great interest throughout.

REPTILES AND BIRDS: A popular account of their various orders, with a description of their habits and economy, of the most interesting character. From the French of Feiguier. New edition, revised by Parker Gilmore, with 307 illustrations. New York: D. Appleton & Co. Pittsburgh: S. A. Clarke & Co.

The title of this book fully explains its contents, and when we add that the information contained in it is given in a pleasing style, and so profusely illustrated that there is hardly a page without a picture, we have given its salient features. It is up with the times, and in all respects a valuable work.

ADVENTURES OF KIVII, THE CHINESE GIRL, by Myra. Boston: Henry Hoyt. Pittsburgh: R. S. Davis & Co.

RUPTURE.

Every kind of Trusses for the cure of Rupture may be obtained at Dr. Keyser's establishment, No. 167 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa. It is a matter of the greatest consequence that all who are ruptured should be properly fitted with a suitable Truss, and one that will keep the ruptured parts in their place. Many persons do not know when they are ruptured, and frequently years are allowed to pass by before anything is done. This is a great error, and one that is often paid for at the expense of the person's life. Rupture is too serious an injury to be treated with lightness or neglect, especially when the means for its relief and cure are so easily obtained. Children and young persons are easily cured with the improved appliances which are constantly being added to the great variety which Dr. Keyser always has on hand.

Dr. Keyser's office, 167 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa., from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 to 6, and on Saturdays at night.

GETTYSBURG
KATALYSINE WATER.

The United States Dispensatory, the authorized record of our Materia Medica, classes this water with the most renowned Alkaline or Carbonated Springs of Europe. It far exceeds any ever known in its self-preserving properties. It does not deteriorate by bottling and keeping. It has never been claimed for any other mineral water the power to dissolve the urates, or so-called chalk formations in the body or on the limbs and joints. This the Gettysburg Katalysine Water has done in hundreds of instances. Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Gravel, Diabetes, Kidney, and Urinary Diseases generally have all yielded to its influence. It has restored muscular power to the paralytic, cured Abdominal Dropsy, and given healthy action to the Torpid Liver. It has cured Chronic Diarrhea, Piles, Constipation, Asthma, Catarrh, Diseases of the Skin, General Debility and Nervous Prostration from Mental and Physical Excesses. It is the best of the bottled water. It is a powerful antidote for Excessive Eating or Drinking. It corrects the Stomach, promotes Digestion, and relieves the head almost immediately. Pamphlets containing a history of the Spring, reports from eminent physicians and medical writers, marvelous and well-attested cures, and testimonials from distinguished citizens, will be furnished and sent by mail on application to

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, April 24, 1873.

Our local money market still continues in a comparatively easy condition—though to-day rather more paper has been offering than for some days past. Some of the banks have been discounting quite freely and have their lines full, while others still have balances to spare. The market is in a comfortable condition, with every prospect of continued ease.

Gold to-day ranged steady, but the evident tendency is to lower figures. We reasonably look for a decline in gold, not only by reason of easier money, but, during the present week, the Secretary of the Treasury will begin the pre-payment without rebate of the May interest. The total amounts to $17,174,882, of which $770,000 has already been paid out, subject to rebate. It is estimated that about $10,000,000 of this gold will remain in this country, and that the banks will be proportionately strengthened in the specie part of their reserve.

The new coinage law has very materially changed the legal tender character of our gold coin. The Journal of Commerce, in commenting upon the law, says:

We come now to the new law, which provides in section fourteen that these gold coins "shall be a legal tender in all payments at their nominal value when not below the standard weight and limit of tolerance provided in this act for the single piece, and when reduced in weight below said standard and tolerance, shall be a legal tender at a valuation in proportion to their actual weight." Thus all eagles and double-eagles which fall more than half a grain below the standard weight of fresh coin can only be a legal tender by weight in proportion to their value. Their is not a piece of either coin in circulation, we presume, unless just from the mint, that will not vary more than half of a grain from the standard weight. This is a variation in the twenty dollar piece of less than one-tenth of one per cent., which is allowed on new pieces just coined, and all pieces that are at all worn have lost more than this by ordinary abrasion. In the half-eagle, three dollar piece, quarter-eagle and dollar, every coin which falls more than one-quarter of a grain below the full weight of a fresh piece is no longer a tender by tale at its face value, but must be weighed out and passed at the discount from its original standard.

The above applies to transactions between individuals. In dealing with the Government, the law is at once more liberal, and far more complicated. It provides that, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury to prevent fraudulent abrasion and other practices, these coins shall be received at their nominal value at the United States Treasury and its offices, if reduced in weight only one-half of one per cent., after a circulation of twenty years, as shown by the date of coinage on the piece itself, and at a rateable proportion for any period less than twenty years. Whether a piece dated in 1853 will be deemed to have been coined twenty years is not explained, but, setting this aside, let us notice the confusion.

A bag of 100 half-eagles is offered at the Custom house. On manipulation, a piece coined in 1853 is allowed to pass with 645-1,000ths of a grain loss; one coined in 1863 is stopped because it is more than 3,275-10,000ths below the standard; and the intermediate years will require as difficult a reckoning as the abstruse calculation of an eclipse.

The law requires the Government to recoin all pieces reduced below this limit of abrasion. But between this limit and the limit of tolerance at which private legal tender for face-value is stopped there is a wide discrepancy. Is the Treasury to pay out a coin twenty years old that is not quite half of one per cent. below the standard, and the individual who receives it of the Government to lose the difference between that and his limit, which is less than one-tenth of one per cent? In point of fact the Treasury is doing even worse. Within a week the sub-Treasury here has paid out coins that were more than half of one per cent. below standard, and the receivers have been unable to use them except at a loss. It may be that the whole bag of coins did not weigh so little, but some pieces did, as a bank which received the lot was not allowed to tender the same to its depositors, who demanded full weight.

It is quite clear that the Secretary of the Treasury should at once order all the coins in its possession to be assorted, and all the light pieces to be recoined. But this will not bridge over the difference between the limit of tolerance and the limit of abrasion. It is likely that the framers of the law intended the pieces to be a legal tender at their nominal value, unless below the weight at which they could be paid at par into the Treasury. This, we believe, has been the private understanding of the act, but it does not read thus, and therefore at one sweep it takes away the legal tender character, between individuals, of more than nine-tenths of all the gold coin in the country.

NEW YORK, April 24, 1873.

The monetary situation is improving, and the market is evidently in the last throes of the stringency. The banks are offering money more freely at 7 per cent., and the supply of loanable capital is increasing. The Express companies brought about $1,100,000 currency. The million and a half of gold sold by the Treasury will strengthen the banks, as the Government accepts National bank notes in payment. In the early part of the day money was worth 1-16 per diem, but before three o'clock loans were made at 4@7 per cent., and after that hour free offerings were made at 4@5. The outstanding legal tenders show an increase of $52,000, while the Treasury currency balance has decreased $350,000. Sterling is dull and weak; 108¾ for prime sixty days and 109¾@109⅞ for sight. Gold was quiet to-day, ranging at from 117⅛ to 117⅜, closing at 117¼@117⅜. Prospective large disbursement by the Treasury acts as a damper on any large bull operation. Loans 1@7 per cent. Gold clearings $67,000,000. The Treasury disbursed $82,000. Custom receipts $440,000, exports $170,000 in silver bars. It is estimated the imports of the week will be about nine millions, or three millions less than last week. Governments are quiet and steady. State bonds are very dull. Railroad bonds, especially of favorite issues, have been strong and in good demand. Central Pacifics closed at 103⅞@104. Union Pacific firsts 86¾, and Western Pacifics 94¾@95, while Chesapeake and Ohio sixes advanced to 58. The offering of three millions of seven per cents. of the latter company at 90 and interest is well received, and attracts favorable attention, in view of the large disbursement of May interest. Stocks are dull, with few features of importance. Prices are somewhat irregular, but fluctuations are neither wide nor frequent. A rumor of prospective unfriendly relations weakened Erie and Lake Shore. The transactions were largest in St. Paul, Pacific Mail and Western Union, the fluctuations in which generally controlled the rest of the market. Late in the day the whole list was strong on easy money. The chief fluctuations of the day were St. Paul 60⅝@61¼, Pacific Mail 57¾@59¼, Western Union 84¾@86, New York Central 100¾@101¾, Lake Shore 91¾@92¾, Erie 64@64¾, Rock Island 107¾@108⅜, and Wabash 69¾@70¼.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, April 24, 1873.

APPLES—Green apples in good supply, and dull but unchanged, ranging from $2 to $3 per barrel.

APPLE BUTTER—45@55c per gallon.

BEESWAX—Quoted at 33@35 cents per lb.

BUTTER—We can report a continued good demand for the better grades, and prices are still sustained: 30 to 35 for prime to choice, fancy brands, 40. However, there is but little inquiry for low grade butter, and it is dull.

BEANS—Sales reported in a jobbing way at $2.50@2.75 per bushel, the outside figure for prime navy.

BROOM CORN—Is quotable at 3½@4½c per lb for red; 5½@6 for green, and 6½@7 for hurl, and the inquiry is mainly for small lots.

COUNTRY BACON—Is in light supply, and prices are tending upward: Shoulders, 5@6 cents; Sides, 7@8c. Hams, 10@12. Country Lard, 7@8c, according to quality and condition.

CARBON OIL—Continues dull, as the jobbing trade always is at this particular time; and we reduce our quotations to 16@16½ by the car load, and 1@2c additional for smaller lots.

CANNED GOODS—Peaches, 3 lb. cans $3.00@3.25 per dozen; 2 lb. cans, $2.50. Tomatoes $2.37½@2.50; Winslow's Corn, $3; other brands $2.50@2.75.

CRANBERRIES—Prime Cultivated quoted at $13@14 per barrel; common, $9@10.

CHEESE—Is quiet and unchanged; new Ohio Dairy, 12@12½; new Ohio factory, 14@15; choice New York Goshen, 17; good do., 16@16½.

DRIED FRUIT—Continues exceedingly dull, and dealers generally are anxious to sell, but prices are nominally unchanged. Peaches nominal at 6½@8 for halves and 5@6 for mixed. Apples 3@5c. Blackberries, 10@12.

EGGS—Continue to come in freely, hence, notwithstanding the cold weather, prices are barely maintained; we repeat former quotations 15@16; there is no difficulty in buying at 15, and we have heard of some sales as low as 14@14½, but some dealers affirmed to-day that they had not sold an egg below 16.

FLOUR—There is a firmer feeling in sympathy with the advices from New York and other points, but there is no perceptible improvement in the demand and no quotable change in prices. We continue to quote Spring wheat flours at $7.50@8, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas, and $8.50@8.75 for red winter wheat. Rye Flour, $5.50@5.75.

GRAIN—With continued light receipts and an increased demand, the market for Oats is considerably firmer, and prices are still tending upward; we advance our quotations to 46@47, for mixed to prime white—we heard of no sales above 46, that is by the car load, but some dealers are holding at that figure, and refusing to accept anything less. Corn, both ear and shelled, is also considerably firmer, and as the receipts for some time past have been comparatively light, the supply is considerably reduced: we now quote at 52@53 on track, and 55 free in elevator; and ear at 53 in bulk, and 55 sacked. Wheat continues scarce and prices are firmer but unchanged: $1.75@1.80 for red, and $1.85@1.90 for white. There is some inquiry for Barley, and it is firmer, as the supply in hands of dealers is small, but prices are without quotable change, 85@90 for Spring, and 95@$1 for fall.

GROCERIES—In commenting on the Coffee market, the New York Shipping List of 23d says: "The high cost of her cargo laid down here induces a disposition among holders to withold stocks to some extent, but notwithstanding these favorable points to the market, and the admitted low state of stocks in Dealers' hands, there is an indisposition on their part to purchase, except for their immediate wants. The Country inquiry is rather on the increase, but is still slow, the interior, as a rule, not responding to the improved feeling here, the late Spring, close money, and a larger average of snow and rain than usual, restricting the demand for consumption to minimum proportions. It may also be noted that polished Lagwayra and other mild Coffees, by reason of their relative cheapness, have become much more of favorites at the West the past year than ever before, and their consumption has doubtless diminished that of Brazil in the interior to some extent." Sugars, according to eastern telegrams, are reported more active but unchanged.

SUGARS—Patent Cut Loaf, 12½; Crushed, Granulated and Powdered, 12; Standard A, 11¾; B, 11; Ex. C, 10¾; C. Yellow, 10¾; Circle C, 10¾. Lower grades, 9@10.

SOAP—Babbit's soap, 10. Bell's Buffalo soap, $6.75. Strung & Wetzel wax, 7½c. No. 1 Rosin 15c. Procter & Gambles wax, 7½c.

HAY—The receipts of baled have been unusually large during the past few days, both by rail and river, and the market in consequence is easier, but there is no quotable change in prices; we continue to quote at $35 to $30 per ton, according to quality and condition.

MAPLE SYRUP—Is in limited supply and higher, $1.30@1.35 for gallon jugs.

MILL FEED—Continues dull but unchanged. Bran, $@$; Seconds, 95@$1; Middlings, $1.10@1.20, as to quality.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY
THURSDAY, March 23, 1873.

CATTLE.

The market has ruled rather firmer since the date of our last report, on 21st, and as the arrivals did not turn out as heavy as expected, buyers have bought more freely, and if anything prices are a shade higher. Prime shipping stock continues very scarce, more so this week than usual, hence, this particular grade is selling quicker and at relatively better prices than the commoner grades; however, as already intimated, all kinds are doing better, and the indications at this writing are that the market will close stronger than it opened; instead of a decline as was anticipated on Monday and Tuesday, it looks now as if there might be a slight advance before Saturday. There is still considerable inquiry for stockers, and the market is almost bare. Quotations may be fairly given as follows: extra 1,400@1,500, steers 7@7½; prime do, 6¾@6⅞; prime, 1,200@1,300, 6¼@6½; 1,000@1,100, 5¾; stock steers 800@1,000, 4½@5¼. Bulls, 3@5c and dull.

The Chicago Tribune of 23d says: Of the 20,000 head of cattle shipped to this market last week, 5,454 head—or considerably more than one-fourth of the entire supply—were purchased by Nelson Morris. The amount of money required to move this stock was $374,700—a pretty good week's business for one man.

Wool Markets.

NEW YORK, April 23.—The Shipping List says: There has been the usual amount of business transacted during the past two or three days, but manufacturers are still cautious and refuse to purchase beyond their immediate wants. Prices continue irregular, with indications of a further decline. Holders still show an anxious disposition to make sales, but they meet with little success. Private advices from Philadelphia report the market in a more favorable condition, 54½ cents being offered for prime Ohio fleece, but holders demand 57½. The sales here comprise 5 bales Cape at 31c; 75 do super pulled, 40; 60 bgs do. and X do, 40; 28 bales spring California, 26@29; 250 do, 21@23; 8,000 lb common and X Ohio Fleece, 49@52½; 11,000 lb low do., 46; 7,000 lb mixed do, 52; 3000 lb. medium and Combing, 56; 5000 lb. unwashed, 27@30; 8000 lb. medium do, 30; 4000 lb. coarse do, 30; 10,000 lb. Fall California, 5000 lb. washed Foreign, 10,000 lb. tub-washed, and 7000 lb. medium Fleece, on private terms.

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—There is more doing, but prices are unsettled. The revised quotations for all grades of wool are as follows: Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia XX. and above at 52@55c; X, 52@55c; medium quarter and half blood, 53@55c; coarse, 47@50c. Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Western fine, 50@52c; medium, 51@55c; coarse, 45@47. Combing Wool—Medium washed combing, 75c; medium unwashed combing, 48@50; coarse washed combing, 70c; coarse unwashed combing, 48c.

Iron Markets.

NEW YORK, April 23.—The dulness prevailing for sometime past for Scotch Pig, has been broken by the sale of 2@400 ton Eglinton, recent arrivals, said to be all from dock, and about 400 do. Glengarnock from yard on terms not made public, but understood at less than our quotations. These sales have been mostly to dealers and have somewhat relieved the market of lots pressing for sale. The market, however, shows no activity, and with consumers wants supplied for the present trade is again dull: we note besides the above, a sale of 300 tons Glengarnock at $52, to be removed from the yard before 1st prox., and a small lot of Coltness, $63. Garsherrie is out of stock and the price is entirely nominal. American Pig is dull, but we do not alter our quotations, the market being firm. The decline in Scotch Pig has caused a better demand for No. 2 X, but the business is still light. New England Rails are quiet and nominal. RIVER NEWS.

The river remains about stationary at this point, with 7 feet 6 inches in the channel. Weather continues cloudy and raw, with indications not unfavorable for rain. Business at the landing continues slow, but hopes of an early change for the better are still entertained.

The arrivals from below were the tow boats Tom Rees, Eagle, Tom Rees No 2 and N. J. Bigley.

The Juniata, deferred her departure for Cincinnati until to-day, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. She is in all respects the finest steamer that comes to this port.

The Alaska departed for St. Louis last evening, with a very fair trip, and she will doubtless pick up considerable below. She is a big carrier.

Capt. Dan. Moore left for Cincinnati on Wednesday, by rail, where he will join the Arlington.

The Savanna, Capt. Crane, will be the first boat out for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi.

—New Orleans Picayune of the 20th: "The great Exporter had quite a number of visitors on board just before she left last night for the iron pile; among them were some of our most prominent merchants. Messrs. Snowden, McGehee & Violet presented a beautiful silver pitcher to Capt. Williams, after a few neat speeches the company sat down to a wellspread table and the corks out of the champagne began to pop, and after a few hours of enjoyment the company seperated wishing Capt. Williams and his steamer good luck. The Exporter will have on freight when she leaves to day, 550 tons—1,200 sacks salt and 400 tons miscellaneous freight.

—The Vicksburg Times and Republican, of Sunday, says: The river yesterday was 12 feet, 2¼ inches below the highest water of 1862, and is still rising slowly. All danger of a flood is over, although there is another rise in the upper rivers. Navigation is now good to all points, but business is slacking off. Freights are ruinously low, and there is little or no profit for steamers in any of the trades, either in the main river or in the tributaries.

—The St. Louis Republican says: How many railroad cars will it take to transport the Iron Mountain's cargo, which consists of 6 barges, containing 2,500 tons, in addition to 41,000 bushels of coke. She has 2,000 tons of railroad iron for the Texas and Pacific railroad, and 500 tons of miscellaneous freight, including 4,000 bxs bitters.

—The Wheeling Intelligencer says: Deputy U. S. Marshal W. H. Irwin seized the steamboat Benwood last Saturday, and she is now lying at the foot of Quincey street. Failure to pay certain bills of indebtedness was the cause of the seizure.

—The Evansville Journal says: The Nashville passed up at 7 A. M. with a full cargo. She has been to the upper Arkansas, and has been out from here since the 28th or 29th of January, having been detained about two months by low water.

—On Thursday night a deck passenger on the Katie had his throat cut from ear to ear by a negro passenger who had robbed him of $60 and was discovered. The negro jumped off at Delta and escaped, and the wounded passenger was taken care of by the officers of the boat.

—At Sioux City, Capt Rodefer, of the Northwest Transportation warehouse, has wagered a $7 hat that no boat, drawing three feet of water will reach Fort Benton in 20 days from the 11th inst.

—On Saturday the City of Cairo, at New Orleans reshipped her freight, owing to financial troubles, on the Thomas Sherlock, and will remain at that point for the present.

—The Nashville Union and American says: The one twenty-fourth interest, belonging to Wm. Austin, in the Ella Hughes, was sold yesterday to Emanuel Sloan, of Cumberland County, Ky.

—The John Kyle made the run to Vicksburg from New Orleans in 35 hours.

—The Mattie Roberts lying at Middleport has been condemned by the Inspectors.

Syphilis, Stricture, Orchitis, Hernia and all Urinary diseases are cured in the shortest possible time that will insure permanent relief. Spermatorrhea, or Seminal weakness and Impotency, as the result of self-abuse or excess in mature years, and which produce some of the following effects, as emissions, blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, cough, indigestion, constipation, despondency, confusion of ideas, aversion to society, loss of memory, and sexual power, and which unfits the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing insanity and consumption, are thoroughly and permanently cured. Medicines supplied at the Institute. A medical pamphlet relating to private diseases sent in sealed envelope for two stamps. All communications confidential.

This Institute was established for the express purpose of supplying the afflicted with scientific and reliable treatment, and is not to be classed with the numerous quacks and impostors that infest all large cities. No matter how difficult or long standing your case may be, it is curable, after a personal examination they will frankly tell you so; remember, they have cured many cases given up by other physicians.

Patients treated by mail or express, but where possible, it is best to visit the city for personal consultation, or address:

LONDON, April 24.—In the House of Commons this evening the resolutions offered by the Chancellor of the Exchequer to carry out the proposals of the budget were discussed.

Ward Hunt spoke in condemnation of a financial administration which underestimated the revenue and overestimated the expenditures. He also opposed the payment of any portion of the Geneva award in Exchequer bonds.

Childers defended the Government and drew a contrast between its administration of the Treasury and that of the Conservatives when they were in power.

The resolutions were finally passed except that reducing the duties on sugar one-half, which Mr. Lowe proposed should be recommitted.

MADRID, April 24.—Castellar has induced his colleagues to order an enrollment in the army of men twenty years of age throughout Spain.

The Situation Becoming Critical.

MADRID, April 24.—Madrid is full of the conflict of parties. Recently there was a definite division of political elements, each taking sides for and against the permanent commission. On Wednesday night Conteras, lately Captain General of Catalonia, was fired at near the Plazo Toros by volunteers, who had taken arms in defence of the permanent commission, and held the Bull Ring. At 9 P. M. six batteries of artillery and a mitrailleuse were turned on the position held by these volunteers, and they were summoned to surrender, which they did. At midnight, the ministry in council, recognizing that the permanent commission was a source of reactionary agitation, called upon the commission to dissolve willingly, or be dissolved forcibly, and decreed its dissolution and disarmed its defenders. The Reds, becoming violent, forced their way into the presence of the commission, but the members of the Ministry personally protected the Commissioners from obnoxious individuals. The Reds have posted themselves at every street corner, holding possession of the city. It is variously reported that Serrano has been thrown into prison, and that he has left the city.

Bidwell Delivered to the English Consul.

HAVANA, April 23.—Bidwell, the alleged Bank of England forger, has been delivered over to the English Consul on an order of Captain General Pieltain, and will probably be sent to England in a man-of-war. Several of the confederates of Bidwell, including Wilson, are still in Havana.

O'Kelly to be Tried.

The Captain General has informed the English Consul that the trial of O'Kelly must continue. If O'Kelly's guilt is established, the Captain General will exercise clemency, but he cannot stop the course of the law. The Captain General has given strict orders to treat O'Kelly with the utmost kindness and see that nothing is wanting to ensure his comfort. The British Consul General has telegraphed to the British Consul at Manzanillo, asking him to do all he possibly can for O'Kelly, and informing him that the moment the tribunal decides Captain General Pieltain will act.

BERLIN, April 24.—The upper House of the Prussian Diet to-day engaged in debate, which lasted six hours, on a bill regulating the training and appointment of the clergy.

Bismarck made one of his powerful speeches in support of the bill. He defended the attitude the Government had taken as fully justified by the domineering assumptions of the priesthood. In the course of his speech he took occasion to deny the often-repeated assertion that he instigated the occupation of Rome by the Italian Government.

The California Robbery.

The post office at California, Pa., on the Monongahela river, was robbed last Sunday night, as we have stated. Yesterday the United States authorities here received information that a man implicated in the robbery,—the name not being given—had been arrested and would be brought to the city to-day for a hearing. The amount received by the robbers was not large, but the mail matter was in a measure destroyed.

The "New State" Collision.

Yesterday the Board of Local Inspectors who have been engaged in investigating the circumstances attending the collision between the steamer "New State" and tow boat Eagle, at Brunot's Island, concluded their labors. Eighteen witnesses were examined, and the Board finally reached the conclusion that the collision was blamable upon the pilot of the "New State." They accordingly revoked his license.

A Phase of City Life.

This morning about one o'clock a little boy named John Maley aged ten years, came into the lock up and requested Capt. Reed to allow him shelter. He stated that his father was a coal digger and that his step-mother had turned him out and would not allow him in the house. The poor child was shoeless, hatless and almost naked, dirty and unkempt as could be, evidently showing that he needs the care of some kind friend. He is intelligent and tells a very straightforward and honest story.

Fifth Avenue.

The Survey Committee and Fifth avenue Commissioners, accompanied by several members of the Engineer Department met yesterday morning and went out to view Fifth avenue. They started from Jumonville street and proceeded out the avenue as far as to Halcut street. Most of the property holders interested in the improvements proposed were with the Committee, and pressed their claims for or against the grading. The Committee will hold a special session and make their report to Councils at their next meeting.

A Careful Commission Broker.

Parties who have money to invest or any financial negotiations to make, would do well to entrust their money for investment, and their business to Mr. Isidore Coblens, who pays especial attention to such matters. Mr. Coblens deals in real estate, and is thoroughly conversant with the market, so that he can give his patrons the advantage of the best opportunities either in buying or selling. He also negotiates merchantable paper on the most favorable terms; buys and sells stocks of the best character—dealing in none that he cannot guarantee; secures money on mortgages, and attends generally to such business. His office is at 58½ Fourth avenue, and he will give satisfaction in the future as in the past, to every patron.

Death of Joseph Reno.

We have to record the death of an old well known and respectable citizen, Mr. Joseph Reno, on Thursday afternoon at his residence 114 Taggart street, Allegheny city. Mr. Reno was a practical and skillful oil refiner—was for several years Superintendent of the Hutchison Oil Refinery. He filled the various responsible positions entrusted to him with great fidelity to his employers and credit to himself.

He has for a long time been the prey of a chronic ailment, unfitting him for business. His death was therefore not unexpected. He was an office bearer, and useful member of the Union Methodist Church, and direct in full faith and confidence of Gospel. H [redacted] and no enem

Bishop Domenec's Answ

Yesterday morning Bishop Domen answer in the Court of Common Ple Bill in Equity recently filed again It will be remembered that bill was fi Alexander Curly and other members of the Luke's Roman Catholic Congregation of Ma field and the allegation was that the Bishop proposed to dispose of certain church property in opposition to the wishes of its Congregation. The Bishop however in his answer denies this. He acknowledges his intention to dispose of the property by trading it for a more suitable location, but denies that such a proceeding would be contrary to the will of the majority of the congregation. He alleges that public notice of the proposed change was given and the matter was discussed by the congregation, which almost unanimously consented to the selection of a new site provided a fair sum could be obtained for the buildings now standing on the present site. And finally he states that the present location is totally unsuitable for a church, for the reason that the ground is marshy and would not offer a good foundation. The case will now come before the Court for adjudication in proper order.

Pittsburgh Monumental Granite Works.

It is a fact—"The best is always the cheapest," and this practical saying cannot be more profitably applied than in the purchase of monumental work. Nearly everything else purchasable with money may be used or disposed of at some return to the buyer if found to be defective or undesirable, but an investment of this kind once made if not durable is a dead loss. The amount of money expended by these two cities since the establishment of Allegheny and Uniondale Cemeteries in the way of monuments, tombs, amazing, indeed it might be said beyond calculation, yet the generation which erected them, and other improvements on burial lots is lived to see those beautiful but frail marble structures which were built to perpetuate the memory of their cherished friends, crumbling before their eyes. A walk through any of our cemeteries will convince any one that marble is wholly unfit for exposure, especially in this particular locality, where the atmosphere is charged with sulphuric and other acids from our numerous factories. Indeed, of all the limestone, marble is the most easily soiled and the most fragile in texture. Even in the mild and sunny climate of Italy it blackens. A force of workmen is kept continually busy cleaning and repairing the marble walls of St. Peter's Cathedral. We note with pleasure, therefore, that our people are now making their cemetery improvements of either Scotch or American Granites, which, in a material sense, are imperishable—and for such work, far more beautiful, as they give greater scope for variety of taste. Messrs. Dodds & Casley, corner Penn avenue and Thirty-second street, Pittsburgh, and of Xenia, O., have perhaps done more than any others in our midst to bring this matter fairly before our people, and we cordially recommend them to the custom of our patrons.

THE SOUTH SIDE SHOOTING.

The Notorious "Bill" McCully and His Pal in Custody.

Officer Lewis Waterman, the shooting of whom was mentioned in yesterday's GAZETTE, seemed to be easier last evening. One of the bullets, the one which lodged over the shoulder, has been extracted by Dr. Arnholt, but what has become of the one that entered his face is a mystery. It is believed he has swallowed it. The officer will recover, though his injuries will confine him to the house for some time. Lieutenant Hyer yesterday morning made information against the man Murray who was under arrest for felonious assault. He was remanded to jail for a hearing by Deputy Mayor Sulisbury. Last evening Officer Reed arrested "Bill" McCully, the principal in the affair. He was found on Mount Oliver, where he was being attended to for the injuries inflicted upon him by the officer. It appears that five shots were fired at Waterman two of which took effect. After he was shot he struck McCully over the head with his mace inflicting very serious injury to the man and breaking the weapon. An information had also been made against McCully before Deputy Mayor Saulisbury and he was remanded to jail for a hearing.

Carlisle Assistant City Engineer during the absence of Mr. Charles Davis, the City Engineer, and that during that time he shall receive the same salary paid the City Engineer, and he shall give bond for the faithful discharge of his duty.

After some discussion the resolution was referred to the Street Committee.

FEDERAL STREET EXTENSION.

The President stated the meeting was a special one called for the purpose of considering the matter of the proposed extension of Federal street.

The clerk then read the communication from the City Engineer, setting forth the cost, and giving other information in reference to the matter. The communication was received and filed.

The ordinance was then presented and came up for discussion.

Mr. VOEGTLY said he was not opposed to improvements, but he thought they ought always to consider if the cost would be equal to the benefit. He would like to see an outlet on the North Side from the city, but he feared that the plan proposed would not bring about that result. The road was to be made at a grade of nine feet, and some said it was hardly practicable. Then they should look at the property to be destroyed, and see if the benefits would make up for the damage. He thought a winding road could be made at a much less expense and without damaging the property.

Mr. GRAHAM, said if they wanted a "winding road" only they had that already. The people, however, were not satisfied with that; they wanted a straight road, and had so petitioned. They said they would foot the bills, and had asked for the road, and the city needed an outlet in that direction so that Councils ought to give it.

Mr. PRICE said the question before them was whether they would open the street. They could decide upon the grade afterwards.

Mr. BURGESS said he represented the Tenth ward, and naturally favored a good street to bring that section into closer communication with the city. The people all wanted a street out there, but they wanted it as cheap as possible and as good a grade. He didn't know why a good winding road would not do, but would favor any kind of a street that would be in reasonable cost. The people wanted a good street,—no half job. They also wanted it to be made as to destroy as little property as possible. They would pay for a good street, and there would be no grumbling if the work was properly done.

Mr. HASTINGS said as the people had petitioned for the street and as the City Engineer and Street Committee had approved the plan presented, as the best plan, that Councils could not consistently do anything else than order the work to be done.

Mr. VOEGTLY thought as it was to be a very extensive work they should be careful. He did not favor an improvement that would tax the people $300,000 and damage their property unless the corresponding benefits were very apparent.

Mr. MCNEILL said this matter had been considered by the Street Committee, upon the petition of the property holders who were to pay for the improvement. If the people wanted it he did not know why Councils should oppose them. He was in favor of giving them what they asked for if it cost fifteen hundred thousand.

Mr. VOEGTLY did not believe in squandering money no matter if the people did ask it.

The vote was then taken on the passage of the ordinance to its first reading. Mr. Voegtly called the yeas and nays which resulted as follows:

Yeas—Ackley, Brown, Beinicke, Burns, Burgess, Cooke, Cochran, Graham, Hastings, Creps, Klicker, Kreiling, Mosser, McNeil, McChesney, Price Smith, Strouse, Snaman, Schmitt, Weaver, President Slack—22.

Nays—Voegtly, Wettach, Walter—3.

The ordinance accordingly passed its first reading; the rules were then suspended and the ordinance passed finally.

The question came up next on the resolution fixing the grade at nine feet.

MR. SMITH moved to make the grade at seven feet.

Mr. PRICE said that couldn't be done.

Mr. BURGESS—There will be a cut of sixty or seventy feet at the end of the road by a seven foot grade. (Laughter.)

Mr. MCNEILL said that the committee and the Engineer had given the matter very careful attention, and he thought it would be found to be right. He believed they would not have reported such a grade unless it was practicable. He believed in adopting the grade of nine feet.

Mr. ACKLEY moved to amend by making the grade nine feet to "the Willows" and eight feet the remainder of the way. After a further examination of the plan however the gentleman withdrew his amendment, as an eight foot grade from the Willows appeared to be impracticable.

Mr. VOEGTLY then moved to refer the matter to the Engineer with instructions to report the benefits and damages to the property adjoining.

Mr. ACKLEY said the Engineer had nothing to do with that; that was a matter for the viewers.

The Chair held the same opinion, and accordingly ruled out the motion. The Chair further stated that if the assessment of damages and benefits as made by the viewers was not suitable, it could be quashed.

The yeas and nays were then called on the resolution, which was passed by the following vote.

Yeas—Messrs. Ackley, Brown, Beinicke, Cooke, Graham, Hastings, Kreps, Mosser, McNeill, McChesney, Price, Strouse, Snaman, Schmitt, Weaver and President Slack—16.

Nays—Messrs. Burgess, Cochran, Klicker, Kreiling, Smith, Voegtly, Wettach and Walter—8.

Mr. GRAHAM moved to suspend the rules to take up other business. Carried.

Mr. HASTINGS, petition for persons selling teas, groceries, &c., in the market asking to be allowed to continue as heretofore. Referred.

Mr. WEAVER, petition for grading and paving of Superior street. Referred.

Mr. KREPS, remonstrance against the opening of Page street. Referred.

Mr. COOKE, resolution from citizens asking the removal of the "dump boat" from the river at the foot of Darragh street. Referred to the Health Committee.

Select Council business was then taken up. A Committee of Conference, consisting of Messrs. Burgess, Graham and Voegtly was appointed on a sewer drop on Chestnut street. Some discussion ensued in relation to the ordinance for gates at railway crossings, which was finally referred back to the Committee, with instructions to report some other practical plan. A Committee of Conference was appointed, consisting of Messrs. McNeill, Ackley and Snaman, on repairing the wing wall of Spring Garden avenue sewer. In all other business there was a concurrence.

A MINISTER ARRESTED.

Trouble About a Guardianship—The Settlement of Claims Demanded—The Heirs of the Late William J. Totten, Esq., Bring Suit Against the Rev. L. R. McAboy.

Yesterday morning a case of somewhat peculiar interest came before the Court of Common Pleas, which formed a topic for conversation in legal and church circles for the remainder of the day. The principal party interested in the case was the Rev. L. R. McAboy, a Presbyterian minister, well known in this vicinity, and a former resident in Pine township, of Allegheny county. It seems that many years ago, the reverend gentleman was appointed guardian of the minor children of Wm. J. Totten, deceased. The estate which came into his hands was considerable, and Mr. McAboy found the guardianship no sinecure, although, as it now appears, it has brought him trouble. As the children came of age he settled their claims one after another, until all but the youngest had been satisfied.

In the course of sundry business transactions he became involved in financial difficulties, it is stated, from which he seemed unable to extricate himself, and having lost all he possessed here, about two years ago he removed to North Carolina, where his wife owned a plantation, and upon which he has since resided.

Within a day or two he returned to the city, and the two heirs whose claims had not yet been settled immediately sought legal counsel, and as a result, Mr. McAboy was arrested on an attachment and brought into Court. The attachment was issued against him for leaving the State without settling up the business of his guardianship.

When brought before Judge Stowe, the defendant made no denial of the fact that the affairs of the estate, so far as the claims of the two heirs were concerned, had not been settled, but that the failure was owing not to criminality but to inability. He had failed, and could not pay over the funds. The Court decided that he would have to give bail to file an account; also to pay over to the heirs of the Totten estate any funds that may be in his possession, and in default of bail to go to jail.

The bail not being at hand he was remanded to the care of Warden Smith until the required security could be obtained. The amount involved in this case is variously estimated at from $5,000 to $10,000 but no correct figures could be given until the account has been made up.

As soon as Mr. McAboy escapes from this embarrassment he is wanted in Butler county. An attachment has been issued from the Orphans' Court there against him, for contempt in failing to pay to one of Mr. Davis' children, in a similar case, the amount which the Court adjudged to be due him.

The defendant is quite an old gentleman, being not far from sixty years of age, and evidently feels his position keenly, although he is emphatic in his statements that it is not a lack of disposition, but a lack of funds, which he could not help, that prevents him from making the settlement asked.

Fine Carriages.

A peculiar feature of the moving panorama, daily seen on our streets is the fact of the increase in the number and beauty of the family carriages which may be seen in almost countless numbers, every afternoon. Our people seem to be thoroughly able to appreciate excellence, and to bestow their patronage accordingly, and hence we find that our home manufacturers, such as C. West & Co., who manufacture such vehicles, have all the trade they can accommodate. The carriages and lighter vehicles manufactured by this firm have won their way in Pittsburgh, and many of those which attract attention on our streets have been turned out from this establishment, and have brought them in so many orders that their bazaar, Nos. 75, 77 and 79 Liberty street, is constantly filled with the vehicles. We are glad to note the success of the firm—especially as it is an indication of the progress of Pittsburgh enterprise. F

ECCLESIASTICAL.

Pittsburgh Presbytery—Proceedings Yesterday.

MORNING SESSION.

The Presbytery convened at nine o'clock with Rev. E. R. Donehoo, Moderator, in the chair, and spent the first half hour in devotional exercises. The minutes of the last session were then read, corrected and approved.

Rev. Robert Carothers, of the Presbytery of Blairsville, and Rev. Mr. Brown, of the M. E. Church, being present, were asked to sit as corresponding members.

A motion to hold an adjourned meeting at Westminster church, on the second Tuesday of June, at two o'clock P. M., was passed.

A motion to limit speeches in debate during the remainder of the meeting to ten minutes was passed.

The Presbytery then took up unfinished business where it was left at the time of adjournment the evening before. The discussion upon the resolution to declare the Rotary system of Eldership inconsistent with the standards of the church was continued. Dr. McKinney supported the resolution in a very terse and able speech against the election of elders for a stated time, arguing that the church had no power to limit the time of the exercise of the eldership.

Rev. F. A. Noble and others opposed the resolution as contrary to the express declaration of the General Assembly. A motion was then made to lay the resolution on the table, which was carried.

Rev. F. A. Noble offered the following as a substitute for judiciary question No. 1, under consideration:

Whereas, The General Assembly at its last annual meeting made use of the following language in reference to the term of service of elders: While the office is perpetual, the term of its exercise in each individual congregation may be left to the decision of the church itself according to the mode approved of, and in use in each church, therefore.

Resolved, That any church within our bounds adopting the term principle for the eldership shall be, and is hereby affirmed to be in order.

Mr. Noble opened the discussion in favor of the resolution, arguing that this declaration of the General Assembly was as plain as Anglo-Saxon language could make it; that it was in accordance with the standards of the church for congregations to limit the time of service of the elders.

Dr. McKinney followed with an argument that the language quoted did not permit congregations to change from one mode to the other, but that this decision by the General Assembly was to permit four or five hundred churches in the west which had adopted the time system to continue in the same system.

Dr. Wilson and Dr. McCandless opposed the resolution, and Dr. Carnahan, pastor of the Bellefield church, supported it, and during the course of his remarks read a portion of a letter from the Moderator of the General Assembly to the effect that in his opinion the intention of the Assembly was that each church could adopt either system of eldership.

The Presbytery then took a recess for dinner.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Presbytery convened at two o'clock. Rev. S. M. Henderson, from the Committee on Sessional Records, reported the minutes of Minersville session, recommending their adoption with the exception of a few minor points. On motion the report of the committee was adopted.

Dr. McKinney, Secretary of the Committee on Missions, presented a report setting forth the condition of the missions and the work done during the past six months. On motion of Rev. F. A. Noble, the report was placed upon the docket.

Dr. McKinney also presented a petition from Grace Church, asking to be recommended to the Erection Committee for aid to the extent of $2,500. A vote was taken upon the question and the petition granted.

Dr. McKinney also asked that Rev. Daniel McFee, of the church of Scotland, be granted the privilege of preaching in the Presbyterian Church for six months. The petition was granted.

The Presbytery then took up unfinished business. Rev. Mr. McCandless's motion to lay the resolution before the house on the table was passed. Mr. McCandless then offered the following:

WHEREAS, There is a serious doubt in the minds of many of the members of this Presbytery as to the proper interpretation of the late action of the Assembly on the question of the Eldership,

Resolved, That this Presbytery respectfully overture the General Assembly, asking them whether their language is to be interpreted as giving liberty of choice in each and every congation as to a limited or life term of services.

Resolved, That the subject now pending be postponed until such time as the General Assembly answer the proposed overture.

The resolutions were discussed pro and con by Revs. Scovel, Noble, McCandless, McKinney and others. The discussion assumed much the same arguments that had been already produced on other resolutions. Rev. F. A. Noble then made a motion to postpone the whole matter of the Judiciary report, upon which the yeas and nays were called, and the motion carried.

The report of the Committee to prepare a report for the Presbytery to the General Assembly was read and adopted.

The report of the Committee on Supplies was read and adopted.

The order of the day was then taken up, and the Judiciary Committee asked that they might be permitted to withdraw their report, presented Tuesday upon the Bloomfield church case, in order to substitute another report. On motion the request was granted, and the Judiciary then presented a report recommending that a committee of five be appointed to take possession of all papers in the hands of Presbytery relating to the case, to visit the church, and, if possible, to effect a reconciliation. On motion the report was adopted.

This difficulty is somewhat similar to that of the Bellefield church. Some misunderstanding had arisen among the members of the session of the church of Bloomfield and a complaint was entered, that some of the requirements of the Book of Discipline and former government in regard to the resignation and election of Elders had not complied with, and that the consideration of the session to charges made against certain members had not been given. The parties concerned brought their complaint to Presbytery for council and judgment and it is hoped the committee appointed will restore harmony.

On motion the report of the Committee on Missions was taken up, and after some remarks relative to the missionary work that has been done and the prospects for the future, the report was approved.

The report from the Committee on Sabbath Schools was called for but as the Committee had no report in readiness it was moved and carried to instruct the Committee to make arrangements for a Sabbath school meeting of Presbytery to be held in the fall, and to report at the meeting in June.

A resolution to tender the thanks of the Presbytery to the ladies, pastor, elders and officers of the church for their generosity and kindness in providing for the entertainment of Presbytery, and to the reporters of the GAZETTE and Commercial for the reports they had made of the proceedings of the meeting, was offered and passed unanimously by a rising vote.

A motion to adjourn was then put and carried, and after the singing of the four hundred and twenty-sixth hymn, prayer by Dr. McKinny, and the benediction by the Moderator, the Presbytery adjourned after a most interesting and pleasant session of three days.

The Place to Shop.

It will be seen by his card that Mr. H. J. Lynch, No. 96 Market street, although an old merchant, is not an old fogy, but keeps fully up with the most enterprising. New goods in the newest styles are being constantly received. His stock, notwithstanding his large daily sales, is kept up by daily arrivals, and is just now one of the largest and best assorted in the city, and he allows no neighbor to undersell him. A full line of linen suits, new styles of linen parasols, dress goods in great variety, lace curtains, marsailles quilts, &c., are among the fresh and seasonable goods just received.

VIRUS IN THE AIR.

We know that a peculiar poison is evolved from marshy ground and from the decomposing filth of cities by the sunshine of spring, and that this element which is too subtle to be detected by scientific analysis, produces epidemic and endemic fevers, aggravates dyspepsia and all billous disorders, disturbs the bowels, relaxes the nerves and debilitates the general system. Luckily an antidote to this atmospheric virus and a specific for the diseases it generates, has been provided. For a period of more than twenty years Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine in which the finest vegetable tonics and alteratives are combined with a perfectly pure stimulant, has taken precedence of every other preparation, as a specific for the ailments most prevalent at this season of the year. It is agreeable as well as effectual, and eminently safe and wholesome.

THE EFFECTS OF ANGER.

A Man Drops Dead From the Excitement Produced by Passion.

Coroner West yesterday was called to Sharpsburg to hold an inquest on the body of a man named James Halloren, who had died suddenly that morning under very peculiar circumstances. It appears that he went into a lot near his house to forbid several men, who had come there to dig up horse-radish, from doing so, but they replied that Mr. Chalfant, the proprietor of the field, had given them permission to come there and get all the horse radish they wanted. Halloren at this remark got very excited, and threatened to blow their brains out, etc. At this junction he fell in a fit apparently, and shortly after expired. Dr. C. W. A. Redlich made a post mortem examination, and gave it as his opinion that the deceased died of heart disease, superinduced by nervous excitement. A verdict in accordance with the facts was rendered. The deceased leaves a wife and six small children in very indigent circumstances. He was a native of Ireland, fifty years of age.
